MOMONDO DEVELOPS FEATURE FOR BUSINESS TRAVELLERS

London in the morning, Paris in the afternoon and Brussels in the evening. As a business traveller, time is of essence and the need for flexibility enormous. That's why travel search site momondo.co.uk has launched the feature 'Ticket Class' in its flight search, which allows business and long-distance travellers to choose the class of trip that suits them best.

Whether the meeting is held in London, Copenhagen or New York, it doesn't make a big difference, if you travel more than 100 days a year. Business travellers are constantly on the move and a comfortable flight is essential, as well as flexibility, if meeting schedules suddenly change.

The increasing demand for flexible tickets for both business- and long-distance- travellers is now being met by travel site momondo, which now offers the ability to search by different flight ticket class.

Users can filter search results based on travel class; qualify searches based on needs, and thus save time in the booking process.

"We have a lot of users - both business and long-distance travelers - with lots of travel activity, where flexibility in relation to both ticket and travel time is crucial. We are now trying to accommodate the increasing demand for flexible flights the best we can by launching ticket type search. In this way we can help our users to easily find the ticket that suits their needs," says Julie Pedersen, spokesperson at momondo.

Ticket Class Search is found on the front page of momondo. By using the filtering options, it is also possible to search multiple travel classes simultaneously.

The screenshot shows the momondo flight search interface. At the top, there are three tabs: 'One-way', 'Return Trip', and 'Multiple destinations'. Below the tabs, there are input fields for 'From' (with a dropdown arrow) and 'To' (with a dropdown arrow). To the right of these fields are 'Departure date' (22-05-2013) and 'Return date' (27-05-2013). There are also two checkboxes: 'Direct flights only' and 'Include nearby airports'. A prominent pink 'Search flights' button is located to the right of the return date field. Below the input fields, there are dropdown menus for 'Adults' (set to 1) and 'Children' (set to 0). The 'Ticket Class' dropdown menu is open, showing four options: 'Economy' (highlighted in blue), 'Premium Economy', 'Business Class', and 'First Class'.
